

PROCLAMATION

Whereas, the MUSEUM BROKEN ARROW is keeping history alive through a Smithsonian exhibit, “The Way We Worked”, created by the US National Archives and is part of “Museum on Main Street” Program, which is a collaboration between the Smithsonian Institution and Oklahoma Humanities; and,

Whereas, the “Museum on Main Street” Program is the Smithsonian Institution’s key initiative that directly engages small town audiences and brings revitalized attention to communities through their museums and historical societies; and,

Whereas, Work is part of nearly every American’s life, having a diverse array of jobs to power our society, whether for professional satisfaction and personal growth or to ensure the well-being of their families. In offices, factories, on the road, and at home, millions keep the nation going through contributions to industry and American culture; and,

Whereas, the Museum Broken Arrow wants to bring attention to this exhibit and encourage our citizens to experience this unique opportunity and

Now, therefore, I, Craig Thurmond, Mayor of the City of Broken Arrow, do hereby proclaim Friday, May 19, 2017 as:

“The Way We Worked Day”

in the City of Broken Arrow, Oklahoma and urge our citizens to support the Museum Broken Arrow in this endeavor.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the City of Broken Arrow to be affixed this 2nd day in May, Two Thousand and Seventeen.

---

Mayor

Attest:

---

City Clerk